THE BRENT BRUSHATHON

In Brent, children face some of the highest levels of tooth decay in London, with 40.1% of children having decayed, missing, or filled teeth. This is not just a health concern - it directly affects learning and wellbeing. Dental pain can make it difficult for children to concentrate, eat properly, sleep well, and fully engage in school life. As a result, many children miss valuable school time due to dental problems that are largely preventable.

That's why initiatives like the Big Brent Brushathon are so important. By bringing schools and families together to promote daily toothbrushing, we can build lifelong healthy habits and reduce the number of children experiencing avoidable pain and absence.

Good oral health starts early and is a shared responsibility. Brushing twice a day with fluoride toothpaste, limiting sugary snacks and drinks, and attending regular dental check-ups can make a real difference. Together, we can ensure every child in Brent can learn, thrive, and smile with confidence.
